Egyptian Culture

How does job and education level reflect your social status?

How are their ideas about rank similar to our own?

Egyptians recorded their culture through writing. They invented a kind of "paper" using dried reeds from the Nile, those reeds formed the first paper that we refer to as papyrus.

Many papyrus rolls still exist and tell us about the history of Egypt as well as its other achievements

Egyptians also invented hieroglyphics which uses pictures to represent words. It later developed into a type of writing using an "alphabet."

Let's try to decipher some hieroglyphics..
